

Young Researchers' Forum – Lisbon 2024 PROGRAMME

Tuesday, November 12th – 13:30-17:00
(incl. networking lunch 12:30-13:30)

Chair

Henrique BARROS, ASPHER President; ISPUP – University of Porto

Oral Presentations

HIRGEV – a first insight into the reality of life for older people in hot weather in a major German city.

Kirsten DUGGAN, Public Health Authority – Frankfurt am Main, GERMANY

An Updated Systematic Review on the Economic Evaluation of COVID-19 Vaccination.

Olalekan POPOOLA, University College Dublin, IRELAND & Jagiellonian University – Krakow, POLAND

Association between the trajectories of free sugars intake and cardiometabolic outcomes during childhood: Generation XXI birth cohort.

Sofia SOSA, University of Porto, PORTUGAL

Effectiveness and Safety Profile of Tixagevimab + Cilgavimab (Evusheld®) in Populations at Very High Risk of Severe SARS-CoV-2 Infection in a Tertiary Hospital in Barcelona, Spain.

Luis Alberto BENEGAS, Hospital Clinic of Barcelona, SPAIN

Caring for Carers: A National Study of Health Care Assistants and Professional Carers Ireland, 2024.

Parnian JALILI, University College Dublin, IRELAND

TACT: A Trust Analysis Canvas for Teaching to Guide Students in Assessing Trust in Digital Health Interventions.

Federica ZAVATTARO, University of Zurich, SWITZERLAND

Horizon Scanning for Novel Vaccines: Implications for ASPHER's Curriculum and Public Health Strategy.

Arianna MAVIGLIA, Maastricht University, THE NETHERLANDS

Ageing in a Warning World: An abstract.

Qianmei DU, University of Edinburgh, UNITED KINGDOM

Public Health In Conflict And War: A Response To An Ever Evolving Landscape.

Karl CONYARD, University College Dublin, IRELAND

Observation of Latent Tuberculosis Treatment in Georgia.

Eka KOKHREIDZE, European University – Tbilisi, GEORGIA

Poster Presentations

Migration and sexual reproductive health needs: the case of Eritrean refugees women in Ethiopia.

Nejimu Biza ZEPRO, Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute, SWITZERLAND

The Lived Experiences of Perinatal Mental Health among Syrian Refugees Living in Istanbul, Turkiye.

Yomna NASSAR, Koç University, TURKEY

Mental Health Outcomes in Transgender Individuals Before and After Hormonal Treatment for Gender Affirmation.

Maria-Christine MAUTNER, University of Vienna, AUSTRIA

Impacts of digitalization on the processes and documents of public health offices in the Czech Republic.

Katerina GRUSOVA, Palacky University Olomouc, CZECH REPUBLIC

Healthcare Utilization and Costs Associated with Chronic Diseases in Europe: A Comparative Analysis.

Boris POLANCO, University of Lucerne, SWITZERLAND

The impact of policy and infrastructural factors on COVID-19 outbreaks in Irish nursing homes.

John LOUGHREY (Jwenish KUMAWAT), University College Dublin, IRELAND

Retrospective Exploration of Food and Water Access and Coping Strategies and their Impact on Household's Food Security during 2022-2023 Artsakh Blockade, among the Population Forcibly Displaced from Artsakh: A Qualitative Study.

Shaghig MINASSIAN, American University of Armenia – Yerevan, ARMENIA

Is it worth it? An analysis of awareness and usage of a heat adaptation measure in a major city in a temperate climate.

Kirsten DUGGAN, Public Health Authority – Frankfurt am Main, GERMANY

Attitudes and Perceptions of Primary Care Physicians on the New Organizational Model of General Medicine in Italy: A Cross-Sectional Survey.

Francesco Andrea CAUSIO, Catholic University of the Sacred Heart, ITALY