

Dear members,

I hope that this letter finds you in good working health and mood for preparing abstracts to the EPH-conference in Marseille 20 -23 November 2019. The deadline for sending in abstracts is set to the 1st of May (12.00 CEST): www.eupha.org . Last year we had several really good contributions of different types – posters, oral, pitch and workshops. Hopefully, we will have the same or higher representation this year.

Please note that when you submit your abstracts the conference track for our section is no. 11 in the guidelines for research abstracts: Health at work, social security. In this track you will meet researchers and practitioners with good competence to discuss your research.

We welcome submissions of workshops! Again, last year we had several interesting workshops and we hope for that in Marseille as well. And for the workshop submission we have a special offer☺! Our former president of the Section, Professor Kristina Alexanderson, (kristina.alexanderson@ki.se) has volunteered to review workshop abstracts before submission. All workshops are scrutinized by the international scientific committee of the EPH-conference and only those with very good scientific standards will be accepted.

We have a pre-conference the 20th of November that we hope you can attend. The theme for this year's pre-conference is migration, employment and social security. Professor Ellenor Mittendorfer-Rutz (Ellenor.Mittendorfer-Rutz@ki.se) is heading the working group that plan the pre-conference. Contact her if you have ideas. We want in particular collaboration with researcher in this field situated in Marseille. Preliminary program will be presented as soon as possible.

I do hope for rich contributions from all of you. Remember to visit our homepage at least once a year to signal that you still are an active member. And please, tell your colleagues about our section. Membership is free.

Best regards from Gunnel Hensing, section president
